2194 Tura, Park Street 37.

It is not only the Neo-Renaissance and Neo-Baroque elements that make the fairytale castle enchanting, but also the love story that can be felt in every corner of the building. It is namely Baron Sigmund Schossberger, a magnate and wholesaler of crops, who had the castle built for his wife.

Following the death of Sigmund’s son, unfortunately the stormy years of history did not save the abandoned castle. The story of the troubled castle became positive in 2016, when its complete renovation began, and the BOTANIQ Castle of Tura was reborn. The castle’s high standards, both in terms of services, furnishings and location, are proof that BOTANIQ is a unique luxury hotel.

The Castle can host private events, birthdays or anniversaries alongside with weddings, special events, team buildings, corporate events.

Verno House, part of the IHG Vignette Collection, is an urban oasis where you can bond, breathe and bloom — just like a prominent Hungarian leader, Széchenyi imagined it 150 years ago. The building was popular amongst famous artists, politicians, scientists and philanthropists of the 19th century, who resided and bonded here. After a complete renovation, the five-star hotel opened in late 2022.

The hotel is located on the corner of Liberty (Szabadság) Square and October 6th Street, rooted in the heart of the city. Stepping out the door you'll find yourself in a refreshing park with the Hungarian Parliament, the Basilica or the Hungarian State Opera within walking distance. Verno is a sanctuary where you can recharge before the next day's explorations.
